Tim Harsh Construction has been serving the Elkins region in residential and commercial construction for more than 30 years.

Tim Harsh Construction is the company for anyone who needs home repair, restoration or an addition, or anyone who is looking to build a home.

The company specializes in construction of quality custom homes, including log homes; commercial properties, excavation, additions, concrete, decks, electric work, restorations, remodeling, garages, basements, patios, ceramic tile, plumbing, kitchens, baths, landscaping, hardwood floors, drywall, painting and roofing.

Customers are welcome to call or stop in for a free estimate; Tim Harsh Construction has hundreds of floor plans and designs for custom homes to meet any need or desire.

Whether you need new shingles for your roof, a nice deck for summer barbecues or a home addition for extra space, Tim Harsh Construction can meet all construction needs in a swift and professional fashion.

No challenge is too big for Tim Harsh Construction. It can replace or rebuild any part of your home, provide custom-sized windows and installation or even new hardwood floors.

Owner and operator Tim Harsh is a licensed general contractor for residential and commercial construction. He founded the company in 1990, and starting the company out of his truck. Now Harsh's business has expanded to a total of 10 employees working throughout the Elkins region.

His team includes warehouse manager Todd Harsh, office manager George Postles, superintendent Bruce Howell, foreman Robert Herron and foreman Alan Langevin.

In August of 2011, Harsh opened Surplus Building Materials to provide the Elkins region with affordable building supplies.

Surplus Building Materials carries doors, windows, siding, roofing, bathroom fixtures, kitchen cabinetry and many more supplies. Harsh said it specialize in making in-house seamless gutters.

"People can come here and save thousands of dollars. We have new, used and surplus materials at a low price," Harsh said. "We can order anything.

"The mission of our company is to strive to be the most professional in our market enabling us to be the first choice for business relationships among our customers, suppliers and employees. We will provide services at competitive costs while providing quality work to our customers to meet their needs."

Tim Harsh Construction and Surplus Building Materials are located in the Elkins Industrial Park at 12 Baxter St.
